Licensed to Wed.

Clerk Hook yesterday issued marriage licenses to the following named parties:
Harry Zimmer, aged 24, and Eva Williams, aged 23, both of Wheeling.
David H. Wilson, aged 23, and Lena B. Phillips, aged 24, both of Ohio county.

Eight Cases on the Docket.

Robert Clark, of Eleventh street, who has a gambling resort, and three other gentlemen, all four colored, were arrested last night by the police. John Owens, John Brown, Clinton Hunt and William Specht were run in by Officer Babb on charges of vagrancy.

Threw a Brick.

Last evening about 8 o'clock Henry Johnson, a glass blower at the Buckeye works, Martin's Ferry, was in the yard in the rear of the factory, when three men on the outside of the fence threw a brick at him, which happily missed the mark intended. Johnson was one of the party that was assaulted on First street some time ago.

A Landslide Quickly Removed.

Yesterday afternoon there was a serious landslide from the slope of the hill upon the Wheeling & Elm Grove road just this side Elm's, "around the hill." The train going out at 5 p. m. was slightly delayed, but the track was soon cleared, and the next train got through on time. The place at which the slip occurred, however, is an ugly one, and there is liable to be trouble there at any time in wet weather.

Wellsburg Court Notes.

The Wellsburg tax cases have been set for Friday of this week, when the argument to the demurrer will be heard. Colonel Arnett, of Wheeling, has been engaged by the prosecutor.

The man Yates, who was indicted for robbing the sheriff's office at Wellsburg, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary. Blankensop and Brady were acquitted of the charge.

A Wonderful Flow of Water.

One of the wells put down for oil on Captain creek, has, at a depth of about seventy feet, proved to be a wonder as a water well, says the Bolivar Independent. At that depth a stream of water was struck which rises and flows out of the top of the well at the estimated rate of 800 barrels per day. The water would rise higher than the top of the well were it confined. It is clear and cold, but slightly brackish.

The New Car Arrives.

The elegant new passenger car purchased recently by the Wheeling & Elm Grove railroad arrived yesterday and will be put into service to-day or tomorrow. Instead of having the seats run along the sides, as in at rest cars, it has the ordinary railway arrangement, with the middle aisle. The seats are upholstered in plush, and there are twenty-four of them, accommodating forty-eight people. The seats are not locked, and can be turned over at pleasure. The new car ought to prove very popular with the patrons of the road. It is certainly a credit to the company.

Booded Stock Sale.

Fully 800 people attended the stock sale on the farm of Robert Henderson, near Smithfield, Ohio. Three year-old Jersey calves sold at $20 each and matured cows at $50, all descendants of "Old Fannie," his well known Jersey cow, which died two years ago. "Old Fannie" was considered one of the finest Jerseys in Ohio, and was always at the head of the procession at the fairs. She had a record of sixteen pounds and fourteen ounces of butter in seven days. Mr. Henderson had refused $500 for the cow time and again, and sold one calf to a Cleveland man for $275. He refused $250 from J. C. Hoze, of Mt. Pleasant, for one.

Two Elopements to Wheeling.

Port Vue borough, a suburb of McKeesport, has just furnished two elopements, says the Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph of last evening. The two couples did not know of each other's intentions, yet they left McKeesport on the same train, went to Wheeling, W. Va., and were married by the same minister within the short space of thirty minutes. The parties are Robert Jackson, of McKeesport, and Miss Colla Allen, of Port Vue; N. B. Little, of McKeesport, and Miss Blanche Campbell, of Port Vue. In neither case was elopement necessary, there being no parental opposition, but the young folks just wished to outwit and surprise their friends.

Nervous Headache.

Proctor, W. Va., Feb. 15, 1895.—I have suffered with nervous headache and had no appetite. I heard so much about Hood's Sarsaparilla that I thought I would try it. I have taken four bottles and the headache has now disappeared and I have a good appetite. Miss Ida J. Ziegler.

THE CONFESSIONAL

Two Subject of a Very Practical Discourse Last Night

BY REV. FATHER S. S. MATTINGLY.

Of Martin's Ferry, at St. Joseph's Cathedral—A Large Congregation Profits by One of the Discourses in the Special Lenten Series Delivered On Wednesday Evenings There.

The cathedral was again crowded at the special Lenten services last night. The large congregation heard one of the most practical sermons that has ever been preached within the cathedral walls. The speaker was Rev. Father S. S. Mattingly, of Martin's Ferry, who is well known in Wheeling.

"In the beginning of this series of sermons," said he, "you heard a discourse on death. Last Wednesday penance was proposed to your meditation. You have listened to a sermon on the 'Sacred Passion.' Now you are prepared for something practical. I bring you to the sacrament of penance."

He then gave a description of a familiar conversation, which he took part in, with a business man, who, on summing up his accounts, found them short. He described a good business man's contempt for one who makes little of small matters, and his love for one who is exact in little things. Thence he showed how the results of a successful business man are of only temporal importance; but we have a business man's action that is eternal. In this branch, the least act, no matter how insignificant, has an eternal effect.

He again returned to the business man, and showed that he is successful who keeps a careful eye on his books, and he affirmed that one who keeps an account of his actions will make a success in his eternal welfare. We must from time to time examine ourselves in relation to our spiritual works, as the prudent business man will watch his ledger.

The conscience of anyone who examines himself daily will become tender, any action that has not the stamp of charity on it will bother him, and he will correct his faults easily.

Here he gave practical directions for those who go to confession at different periods, every week and every month, how long they should spend in immediate examination of conscience. Then he gave the mode that should be observed in the confession of one's sins. The reverend father then went into the subject of what constitutes the malice of sin, for the benefit of those who doubt if this or that is right or wrong. He showed how much the good or evil of any act depends on the good or evil intention.

Then he explained the relation of a penitent in the Sacrament of Penance and his duties, and how examination of conscience is necessary to prepare one for this duty. He warned his hearers against a common evil—that is, a false conscience. We are so apt to be partial judges on our own case. Human nature is so inclined to excuse itself even in its worse crimes, and much more so in small failings. This is a great obstacle to a charitable as well as a high spiritual life. We excuse this and that unkind act, we give a reason for not doing this or that charitable act, and the reason may be a slim pretext.

He showed how good, honest confessions advance us in high spiritual life, make us more sincere Christians and our life more practical.

He deprecated the lives of those who give bad example by insincere confessions, whose lives are not affected by the sacrament, because their confessions are not sincere and therefore affect not their lives.

He then in eloquent terms pictured the contemptible life of those who never examine their lives in the light of God, the useless life they live, which will be an eternal failure. How ignoble and unworthy such a life on the part of any intellectual being with the instincts of nobility imprinted on him by the omnipotent God.

The congregation united with great emotion in singing the hymns. The services closed with the benediction of the blessed sacrament.

The Modern Way

commends itself to the well informed, to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeably as well. To cleanse the system and break up colds, headaches and fevers without unpleasant after effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs.

To Teachers and Others.

For the meeting of the National Educational Association at Denver, Colo., in July, next, the western trunk lines have named a rate of one standard fare, plus two dollars for the round trip. Variable routes will be permitted. Special side trips at reduced rates will be arranged for from Denver to all the principal points of interest throughout Colorado, and those desiring to extend the trip to California, Oregon and Washington, will be accommodated at satisfactory rates. Teachers and others that desire, or intend attending this meeting, or of making a western trip this summer, will find this their opportunity. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway (first-class in every respect) will run through cars Chicago to Denver. For full particulars, write to or call on John R. Pott, district passenger agent, 486 William street, Williamsport, Pa.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas, of Junction City, Ill., was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her, and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida St., San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottles at Logan Drug Co.'s drug store. Regular size 50c and $1.00.
